Elizabeth Haase, MD
Suite 620, 119 West 57th Street
New York, NY 10019
ekh7@columbia.edu

Dr. Haase completed her medical degree at Yale University and her residency at Columbia University Medical Center. She remained at Columbia University to complete a fellowship in consultation-liaison psychiatry and a certificate in psychoanalysis. These trainings inform her approach to patients, teaching and writing, which is characterized by a thorough explication of both biological and psychodynamic contributions to a given clinical presentation. She serves on the Committee for Human Sexuality for the Group for the Advancement of Psychiatry and the Editorial Board of the Journal of Dynamic Psychiatry, both under Drs. Jennifer Downey and Richard Friedman, and will be working this year on the program committee for a new center devoted to the interdisciplinary study of the mind under Dr. Edward Nersessian.

The recipient of two teaching awards, Dr. Haase teaches courses on psychosexual development, advanced psychoanalytic theory, and human pain through the Columbia University residency training program and Chinese American Psychoanalytic Alliance, where she is consistently rated one of the most clear and relevant teachers. Recent presentations include a panel on internet dating for B'nai Brith New York and a workshop on sexuality for a local religious community. The author of several papers and chapters, Dr. Haase's current writing interests include theories of perversion, the relationship between mood states and romantic love, and the psychology of shame.

Thomas Kalman, M.S., M.D.
TKmd49@gmail.com

Dr. Kalman is Clinical Associate Professor of Psychiatry, Weill Medical College of Cornell University, and Adjunct Associate Professor of Psychiatry, NY Medical College. He has maintained a private practice in general psychiatry and psychoanalysis for over thirty years, integrating different techniques and understandings along with a primarily psychodynamic orientation. Dr. Kalman's current areas of interest and research involve split-treatment arrangements and the problem of inadequate communication between professionals treating the same individual. Other recently presented and published work involves problematic Internet use, specifically pornography. Dr. Kalman's other graduate degree is in health care administration, and he remains interested in health care delivery, economics, and policy.
