

PSYCHODYNAMIC PSYCHIATRY

The Journal of the American Academy of Psychoanalysis and Dynamic Psychiatry

Information for Contributors

As of January 2012 the name of the journal will change to Psychodynamic Psychiatry. Psychodynamic Psychiatry will publish research and clinical articles in the areas of psychodynamically informed assessment and treatment, including psychoanalysis. The journal will also publish critical reviews relevant to depth psychology.

Manuscripts submitted to Psychodynamic Psychiatry will be blindly peer-reviewed with the understanding that they are being contributed solely to this journal; those accepted for publication may not be published elsewhere without written permission.

U.S. Copyright law requires explicit transfer of copyright from author to publisher. A copy of the transfer agreement to be used for Psychodynamic Psychiatry is available from the Editorial Office. Upon acceptance of a manuscript for publication, the Journal office will forward a copy of that agreement, to be executed and signed by the author, and returned to the office. (If the article is a "work made for hire," the agreement must be signed by the employer.)

Authors are responsible for all statements made in their manuscripts. Published articles do not necessarily reflect official views of the American Academy of Psychoanalysis and Dynamic Psychiatry. Each manuscript should include a brief abstract of the essential contributions of the paper, the date submitted, and the author's complete mailing address and telephone number. All papers will be copyedited.

Manuscript Form: Only electronic transmissions of manuscripts will be accepted. Manuscripts should be submitted directly to Sara Elsdén, Editorial Coordinator, selsden@ssmgt.com. Paragraph format of text (12-point font), including footnotes, references, and extracts, should be double-spaced. Page format should be 8.5 x 11 in. with standard margins. Submission of manuscripts that are longer than 40 manuscript pages, including references, is discouraged. Authors should use gender-neutral language.

Tables and Illustrations: Tables, charts, and photographs should be submitted by e-mail. They should be self-explanatory. Photographs should be submitted in JPEG format. Tables and charts should be executed in Excel or PowerPoint.

Footnotes should be avoided if possible. If used, they should be numbered consecutively and typed in the body of the manuscript directly after the line containing the reference number. Initial footnotes referring to the title or author are not numbered.

References: Literature citations in this journal should conform to the following format. In text, refer to the author and year of the original publication: "Freud (1923) wrote..." or "In 1923, Freud wrote..." or "The formation of the ego (Freud, 1923)..."

References should be listed alphabetically and not numbered. Authors should consult the publication manual of the American Psychological Association, 5th Edition (2001) for rules on format and style. More than five coauthors will be designated "et al." in the text but should be enumerated in the reference listing. The author's name should be followed by the year of the original publication of the article or book, the title, the name of the publication, volume number, beginning and end pages. The name of the publisher and city of publication are required for books. If the year of the original publication is different from the edition referred to (as with the Standard Edition), the year of publication of the edition referred to should be used.
